Wireless Energy Management & Smart Metering

Control Appliances, Monitor & Maximize Energy Efficiency & Reduce Costs

Wireless Energy Management

No more energy waste...
Say goodbye to those unexpected high bills...

IntellyGreen is the highest-quality, most fully functioned smart metering system currently on the market. Its advanced technology provides a large number of features that work for different people in different ways. The thing they all have in common is that they are designed to help cut your energy use and therefore save you money.

IntellyGreen provides essential data about energy consumption at the point of use. It allows you to check the power consumption of appliances in real time, monitor it over a longer period, and even control it remotely.

The average household could save around £200 a year by taking energy efficiency measures

Reduces your energy consumption...

Total Control of Your Energy Usage

Using Power Monitors have proved to be the most effective ways to help reduce electricity bills. When you know what's using all the electricity you can do something about it! Unlike other devices on the market, Intelly Green goes far beyond simply monitoring electricity consumption. You now have the ability to CONTROL and schedule ANY electrical device and electrical heating system from anywhere within your property or through the Internet.

If everyone in the UK switched off unused appliances it would save £800 million a year

The results of a recent study by the Carbon Trust showed that Smart Metering, when combined with consumption data and energy saving advice, could give potential savings of up to 20% on your energy bills.
